EVENT SITUATION

You are to assume the role of the owner of MORNING GLORY, a popular breakfast and brunch café located in a college town. Your business partner (judge) wants you to determine the feasibility of launching a "ghost kitchen" concept to utilize the facility during evening hours.

MORNING GLORY has been open for three years and is famous for organic coffees, avocado toast, and gourmet pancakes. The business is extremely profitable between the hours of 7:00 AM and 2:00 PM. However, the kitchen sits empty and unused from 3:00 PM until opening the next morning. Despite the success of the brunch service, the rent for the commercial space is high, and your business partner (judge) believes the business is losing money by not utilizing the kitchen in the evenings.

Your business partner (judge) wants to launch a ghost kitchen—a delivery-only food brand that operates out of the MORNING GLORY kitchen but is listed under a completely different name on delivery apps like DoorDash and UberEats. Customers would never know the food is coming from the breakfast café.

Your business partner (judge) has proposed two potential concepts for the ghost kitchen and wants you to select the best option:

1. THE WING KING: A concept focusing on deep-fried chicken wings and heavy appetizers. This is a high-demand food for college students late at night. However, MORNING GLORY currently does not own deep fryers, and you are concerned that the smell of grease might linger and impact the café's "fresh and organic" morning atmosphere.
2. MIDNIGHT MUNCHIES: A concept focusing on loaded cookies, brownies, and premium dessert waffles. This would utilize the existing baking equipment and ingredients already in stock for the morning pancakes. However, the profit margin on desserts is generally lower than savory food.

Your business partner (judge) wants you to analyze the feasibility of a ghost kitchen, select one of the concepts (or propose a modification), and explain how it will fit into the current operations without damaging the MORNING GLORY brand.

You will present your ideas to your business partner (judge) in a role-play to take place in the business partner's (judge's) office. The business partner (judge) will begin the role-play by greeting you and asking to hear your ideas. After you have presented your ideas and have answered the business partner's (judge's) questions, the business partner (judge) will conclude the role-play by thanking you for your work.

Possible Judge's Questions:

1. Since this is a "ghost kitchen," how will we market the new evening brand if we don't have a storefront sign for it?
2. How will we manage the staffing transition between the morning brunch team and the evening delivery team?
