EVENT SITUATION

You are to assume the role of the operations manager at LAKEVIEW RESORT, a 200-room lakeside hotel that offers various amenities, including a spa, restaurant, and water activities. The resort has received several complaints from guests regarding slow service when requesting extra amenities (like towels, pillows, and toiletries) to their rooms. Currently, all guest requests are handled manually by housekeeping and front desk staff, often leading to delays, particularly during busy weekends.

The owner of the resort (judge) has suggested implementing a new Guest Request Management System (GRMS) that allows guests to submit requests directly through the resort's app or in-room tablets. The system would automatically send notifications to the appropriate staff and track the progress of each request. However, the owner (judge) is concerned about the cost of implementing the system, potential training needs for staff, and whether the investment would truly improve operations.

The owner (judge) has asked you to weigh the pros and cons of implementing the GRMS and how it would impact service efficiency, customer satisfaction, and overall operations. You will also need to consider how you would communicate and train staff for the new system and address any potential challenges.

You will present your ideas to the owner (judge) in a role-play to take place in the owner's (judge's) office. The owner (judge) will begin the role-play by greeting you and asking to hear your ideas. After you have presented your ideas and answered the owner's (judge's) questions, the owner (judge) will conclude the role-play by thanking you for your work.

Possible Judge's Questions:

1. How do you anticipate the Guest Request Management System (GRMS) will reduce the response time for guest requests, especially during peak periods?
2. What specific challenges do you foresee in training the staff to use the new system, and how would you address any resistance from employees?
