EVENT SITUATION

You are to assume the role of the product manager for PEAK PERFORMANCE, a company that produces athletic training gear and accessories. The company's CEO (judge) has asked you to develop new product ideas to expand the company's product line based on recent trends in youth sports participation.

PEAK PERFORMANCE produces a range of premium athletic training gear aimed at high school and college athletes involved in team sports. Their products include resistance bands for strength training, speed training ladders for agility drills, balance boards for core stability exercises, and recovery tools such as foam rollers. All products are designed to enhance athletic performance during practices and workouts, both on the field and in the gym. The brand is known for its high-quality, durable equipment used by serious athletes to improve their speed, strength, and overall conditioning. However, a recent report on youth sports has highlighted several emerging trends:

- Increasing use of wearable fitness trackers, smartwatches, and mobile apps that monitor performance metrics like heart rate, steps, and calories burned.
- Increased interest in products that can be used for at-home training or outdoors.
- A shift toward virtual coaching and online workout programs, allowing young athletes to train from home with guided sessions from professional coaches and trainers.

The CEO (judge) wants to capitalize on these trends by developing new products that appeal to young athletes across both team and individual sports. You must introduce a new product or line of products, explain how it will add to PEAK PERFORMANCE's existing product mix, and provide a marketing strategy that positions the new product effectively to the target market.

You will present your ideas to the CEO (judge) in a role-play to take place in the CEO's (judge's) office. The CEO (judge) will begin the role-play by greeting you and asking to hear your ideas. After you have presented your ideas and answered the CEO's (judge's) questions, the CEO (judge) will conclude the role-play by thanking you for your work.

Possible Judge's Questions:

1. How do you plan to differentiate the new wearable fitness trackers and virtual coaching products from existing competitors in the market?
2. How do you plan to leverage social media or online platforms to market these new products and attract both team-based and individual athletes?
