EVENT SITUATION

You are to assume the roles of the marketing manager and the customer relations manager for VICTORY SPORTS, a local sports apparel and equipment store. VICTORY SPORTS has been a staple in the community for over 15 years, specializing in high-quality gear for various sports, including soccer, basketball, football, and track and field. The store is well-known for its knowledgeable staff, who are often local athletes themselves, and its commitment to supporting local high school teams.

Located in a suburban area with a high school population of around 2,000 students, VICTORY SPORTS has a loyal customer base that appreciates its community involvement, including sponsoring local teams and hosting charity events. However, in recent years, the store has experienced a decline in foot traffic due to increased competition from online retailers and larger chain stores offering similar products at lower prices.

As the busy school sports season approaches, the store's owner (judge) has tasked you with designing a comprehensive promotional campaign aimed at attracting local high school athletes and their families. The campaign should focus on reinforcing VICTORY SPORTS as the go-to destination for quality sports gear. Your proposal should include:

- Promotional Offers
- Community Events
- Social Media Strategy
- Feedback Mechanism

You will present your promotional campaign proposal to the store owner (judge) in a meeting taking place in their office. The owner (judge) will begin the meeting by greeting you and asking to hear your ideas. After you have presented your campaign and answered any questions, the owner (judge) will conclude the meeting by thanking you for your work.

Potential Judge's Questions:

1. What metrics will you use to evaluate the effectiveness of your promotional offers and community events?
2. How does your campaign leverage the differences of VICTORY SPORTS compared to online retailers and larger chain stores?
